Song Recital at Central College.

Miss Fleta Rudy of Neosho, Mo., gave the last graduating program for the year in Murrell Hall Tuesday evening. The extreme inclemency of the weather prevented many of Miss Rudy's friends from enjoying a very beautiful recital. Those who succeeded in getting to the college were amply repaid. The program was varied and comprehensive, and Miss Rudy presented it in a manner that indicated earnest and diligent work during the two years she has been at Central. Her voice is a soprano of excellent quality, it has volume, flexibility, beautiful color, and no small dramatic power. Her singing of the two arias, exactly opposed in style, from Tosca and Faust respectively, established her versatility early in the evening. The rendition of the celebrated Vissi'd Arte was one of the best bits of vocal work ever heard in the college.

The English songs were well chosen and well sung. Of these the "Song of the Chimes" and "April Rain" were especially well handled, while "A Love Note" was sung with such freedom and style that an encore was demanded.

Miss Rudy was fortunate in having Mr. Conrad at the piano, and the accompaniments added no small degree of pleasure to the program.

In full the program read as follows:

Widmung	Schumann
Die Lotusblume	Schumann
Der Asra	Rubinstein
Thine Eyes so Blue and Tender	Lassen
Guten Morgen	Greig
Two Arias
Vissi'd Arte, vissi d'Amor (Tosca)	Puccini
Bijou Song (Faust)	Gounod
English Songs
Noon and night	Hawley
A Love Note	Rogers
Poppies	Wood
Serenade	Gilbert
There, Little Girl Don't Cry	Schnecker
April Rain	Woodman
Song of the Chimes	Worrell
Ecstasy	Rummel

JUST A FEW MORE!

Because you don't see my add, is no sign that I have not Barred Plymouth Rock EGGS for sale. I have for sale now, and will have at all times eggs for hatching. What do you want to pay for eggs that are guaranteed and hatch like this:

"15 chicks from 15 eggs. Can't beat that much!"—P. B. Marshall.
"26 chicks from 30 eggs. Not so bad."—Mrs. Joe Graddy.
"20 chicks from the two settings. Well pleased."—Miss Ollie Wyatt.

Call me up and ask the price, it makes no difference what you want to pay, I will sell at your price and you will get a hatch not unlike the above.

Killed by Freight Train.

Yesterday morning about three o'clock a man walking from Wellington to Lexington found on the Missouri Pacific right-away a badly mangled body of a man. The authorities were notified and upon search of his clothing found papers and letters giving his name as H. S. Sydnor, a stickler of Oklahoma City, Okla. One letter was from his wife containing a pitiful plea that he send her enough money to help care for the children, as she could hardly earn enough to pay the rent.

The body was taken to Winkler's undertaking rooms and his wife notified of his death.

Death of John Strodtman.

John Strodtman, a prosperous and highly respected citizen of this county died Wednesday noon at his home one mile south of Napoleon. His death was due to heart trouble.

Mr. Strodtman is survived by his wife, three daughters and two sons—Mrs. Vince Owen of this city, Mrs. Roy Turner of Napoleon, Miss Mabel Strodtman of Kansas City, John and Robert Strodtman of Napoleon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Thompson returned to their home in Sedalia Wednesday after attending the commencement exercises at Lexington College.

Judge Zach W. Wright, C. L.

Glasscock, Judge T. A. Walker, H. W. McNeel and B. C. Drummond went over to Odessa Friday evening with a view of bringing back the prize offered in a spelling contest. Mr. Drummond developed "cold feet" (so reported) and did not compete. The others were left in the "stretch." Mrs. J. T. Wagoner, of Odessa, proved to be the best "speller" and won the prize—a handsome quilt.

E. B. Campbell went to Kansas City Wednesday to spend the day on business.
